Message from Mr Hobbs

Good afternoon all,

It has been wonderful to see the sun so much over the last couple of weeks. The children have really enjoyed getting out and enjoying the weather. Long may it continue.

World book day today has seen some fantastic costumes and the children are enjoying moving to different classes and talking about different books with some lovely book related activities. Each child will bring a voucher home which will entitle them to a free book or money off a book of their choice. As a Reading For Pleasure school we always promote reading as an activity that can provide so much to children. Books are a great source of learning but can also be used as the perfect way to relax and escape day to day life. Finding the right book is important and we are always looking for new books to add to our library. Our staff will often spend time and make suggestions for the children so they can find something that interests them. Reading with your child provides a great opportunity to bond with them and discuss what is happening in the book and share ideas of what might happen next. At the end of every day the teachers will read a class book which promotes lots of discussion with the children about what is happening. We hope that the children have enjoyed the day and hopefully have found out about some new books they would like to read.

In other news, Keyne and Ladoca have welcomed back Miss Katie to teach them their PE topic of dance. The children have been incredibly focussed and listened intently to the instructions before getting the opportunity to try the moves themselves. No doubt some of them have been desperate to show off their "tutting", "toprocking" or the "wave" when they get home!

Have a great weekend

Tom Hobbs - Head of School
