Try to keep the letters the same height. d is higher; f is not quite as high as d. f g j p all have 'descenders' which drop under the line. Concentrate on making the letters sit on the line except where there are descenders.

As we do at school, write a line for each letter pair and word then circle the best one in each line.

Which letter pair do you find the trickiest?

Now try today's poem. You can decorate it too. Try to learn it by heart. Enjoy!
